

PRESS RELEASE – APRIL 22, 2009

Taylorsville/Alexander County, NC

Now Online at the Village Profile® Community Profile Network® Website - (Taylorsville, North Carolina)

The new community map of Taylorsville and Alexander County, North Carolina published for the Alexander County Chamber of Commerce is now online

<http://www.villageprofile.com/northcarolina/alexandercounty>.

The map was produced in cooperation with Village Profile®, the nation's leading Chamber publisher. The Village Profile® Mobile Map Publishing Program™ is the only one of its kind available to Chambers of Commerce. It provides thousands of print copies; in addition, the map and all advertisements are online at the Village Profile® Community Profile Network® website, www.villageprofile.com.

The community map is interactive -- wirelessly accessible at www.vpmobile.us via PDAs, smart phones, web-enabled cellphones, and most other mobile devices, and allows users to link directly to advertisers' websites, as well as direct-dial advertisers in real time. Users can access the online map and advertiser directory via their computers at the Village Profile® website.

Internet users can tour Taylorsville and Alexander County -- and 1,400 communities across the U.S. -- on the Community Profile Network® at www.villageprofile.com, home of the Internet's largest, most comprehensive community website.

These technologically advanced publications are produced at NO COST to Chambers. As an added bonus, Chambers receive enhanced royalties to continue to develop and present programs to help member businesses succeed.

Village Profile®, which observed its 21st anniversary in 2009, was the first Chamber publisher to replicate its community profiles, membership directories and maps online. It introduced multi-platform convergence publishing to the Chamber industry in 2002, with traditional print augmented by publication websites, free NewView eBook® downloads, CDs, and mobile business directories accessible via wireless handhelds.
